About Sunset Palms Resort

Your Home Away from Home

St. Pete is a one-of-a-kind destination, and your vacation here should be just as unique.

At Sunset Palms Resort, our family-owned and operated beachfront resort is dedicated to making your stay as memorable as possible.

From enjoying unobstructed ocean views as you lounge in a private cabana, to exploring local ecosystems on our guided kayak tours, every aspect of your stay is catered to your entertainment and comfort.

Whether you're staying for two nights or two weeks, we promise an authentic and unforgettable St. Pete Beach experience.

A 40 Year Legacy

Sunset Palms Resort started off as an accident.

What was supposed to be a 1-week family vacation to St. Pete with our three daughters in June of 1985 turned into a lifelong stay. We were instantly enamored with the beaches, the city, and the people. A month later we packed up all our belongings, sold our house in New Jersey, and moved into a modest beachfront property in St. Pete with no real plan in mind.

Family and friends visited us often, leading us to fall even more in love with the city as we eagerly played “tour guide,” showing them our favorite spots.

That’s when my husband and I, Don Aldridge, decided to turn our home into a B&B to welcome more guests to our slice of paradise.

Forty years, an expansion, and thousands of guests later, we are proud to be a family-owned and operated resort with the same mission: welcome guests to our home and make their stays memorable.

Arrive as Guests. Leave as Family.

St. Pete is not the same city it was forty years ago, and neither is our family—and aren't we better for it!

The Aldridge family has grown (three grandchildren now!) but just like our city, who we are at our core remains the same.

When you choose to stay at Sunset Palms Resorts, we promise to provide a personalized, welcoming stay. Whether you're a solo traveler, a family of five, or a corporate getaway, you'll leave a part of the Sunset Palms family.
